2018 – Present

I'm in my fourth year of a bachelor's degree program in computer science. I have finished a few projects so far using html, css, javascript, flask, django, php, and the internet of things. While working on this project, I ran across a lot of difficulties, but in the end, I learnt a lot. I don't want to confine my education to only this. I'm studying machine learning as well, including image processing.
